RESIDENCE PURPOSES

The purposes of the residence at Prairie College includes the following:

1. Provides an economical, healthy and safe living environment.

The residence is a modest but comfortable and safe home for single students. There is a mutual economic advantage to both students and Prairie College through living together in a residence community by sharing costs and wise stewardship of God's resources.

2. Supports the academic journey of students.

Research demonstrates that residential life positively contributes to student retention, academic performance and program completion (e.g. Pascarella and Terenzini, How College Affects Students, 2005).

3. Cultivates a Christian community.

The residence forms a fertile context for the life and growth of a Christian faith community. The community is a dynamic expression of Christ's life as students participate in the life of Jesus within His community. Denominational, racial, cultural, gender, age, academic, career interest and socioeconomic diversity provides opportunities for students to appreciate the richness of the Christian community. Within this diversity students can develop significant relationships and learn the attitudes and actions of maintaining the unity of the Spirit (Eph 4:2-6). Students can learn from each other, encourage each other, and care for each other.

4. Fosters the process of Christian development.

This community environment positively influences individual student discipleship and life transformation that cannot be replicated by private residence situations. In this sense, the residence forms a "classroom for life" to develop attitudes and actions that are essential to living and working together with others.

For these reasons, residence life is an important contribution to the educational and formational process at Prairie College. The residence is an intentional process by which students are formed in Christ and transformed for service.

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT

These residence purposes result in the following policy.

Single students are required to live in the Prairie College residence, with the following exceptions:

- Students living with parent/s or legal guardian/s at home in the Three Hills vicinity.
- Students taking two courses (6 credit hours) or less within a semester.
- Students 22 years of age or older.
- Students who have 60 or more credits earned toward their Prairie program.

The same requirement applies during the spring/summer sessions.

Appeals for an exemption from the residence requirement policy because of extenuating circumstance can be made in writing to the Director of Student Development. Such an appeal must be submitted at least three weeks before the semester in which you are requesting exemption.

The Director of Student Development assigns residence rooms with double occupancy. Students may apply for single room occupancy. If approval is granted for single occupancy, an additional fee is charged for this privilege to those students who are required to live in the residence.

Residence fees are charged per semester. If a student moves out of the residence during the semester a refund will be given as follows:

- Moves out before the first day of second term – 25%
- Moves out on or after the first day of the second term – 0%

Meal Plan Policy

All first year residence students must purchase a meal plan for the Sanford Hanson Dining Room because:

- The residence is not equipped with appliances/facilities for all the students to cook individually.
- Eating together is a key element in developing a relational community. Like the kitchen table in a home, eating together in the Dining Room is a key aspect of nurturing 'family' relationships.

Students with special dietary requirements should immediately contact Mike Olver, Director of Food Services. He will work together with you to provide an appropriate meal plan. This may involve an extra cost.

Students who cannot be present for a mealtime in the Dining Room (e.g. sports game) have lunch bag availability. You need to contact the Dining Room at least 24 hours in advance and the Dining Room will prepare a take-out meal for you.

Students who are not in their first year in residence and students who are not required to live in residence but choose to do so may request exemption from the meal plan. Such a request must be submitted at least three weeks before the semester in which you are requesting exemption. Students granted exemption from the meal plan will be charged $300.00/semester to defray costs for appliances/utilities.

Meal plan fees are charged per semester. If a student leaves the meal plan during the semester a refund will be given of the amount remaining after the Friday noon meal of the week you are removed from the meal plan plus the equivalent of an additional week administration fee.

The fob is for the exclusive use of the student to whom it is issued. You are to use your own fob for entry/exit. To maintain security and safety do not use your fob to swipe in for other people.

The residence should be quiet during the following times to enable students to sleep, have devotions, or study.

- All days: 10:30pm-8:00am
- Sunday: 1:30pm-4:30pm
- Exam Weeks all 24 hours

Quiet is defined as limiting any noise so as not to disturb roommates or other residents. This includes refraining from excessive noise when in outdoor proximity to the residence because external noise can be equally disturbing. During quiet times there should be consideration in the use of kitchens, lounges, and showers. Disregarding quiet hours can result in a fine.

Rental Agreement and Payment

Rent is payable in full at the beginning of each semester for the entire semester.

Residence is closed for the Christmas Break but you may leave belongings in your room during this break. Utilities

Wise utility consumption is an environmental and stewardship concern. Please turn off lights and electrical components when not in use. Keep windows closed in cold weather and when you are not in your room. Ensure that windows are closed and the heat turned down prior to your departure at Christmas.

ENTERTAINMENT

Because we have personal freedom to do something does not mean we have the Christian freedom to do so. Christian responsibility requires a wise stewardship of mind, body, and time. Responsibility for choices on issues of entertainment should be based on the following principles.

- Love – Will exercising my freedom in this choice build the body of Christ? Will it cause someone to use my actions as license for the misuse of liberty? Am I causing division in the body of Christ? Liberty should not cause another person to stumble, to be made weak, or to turn from Christ. This principle of love applies to both the weaker and the stronger one in faith. The stronger need to consider the sensitivity of the weaker; likewise the weaker must consider the freedom of the stronger (Rom. 14-15; 1 Cor. 8; 10:23-33).
- Conscience – Will this choice offend my conscience? (Rom. 14:22-23)
- Edification – Will this choice be profitable to my spiritual life, to God's goals for me, to my health, to my testimony to the lost, and my life as an example to other believers? (1 Cor. 6:12; 10:23)
- Control – Will this choice enslave me? Has it enslaved me? Will this choice be evidence of, or does it contribute to, my enslavement? (1 Cor. 6:12b)
- Temple – Will this choice help or hinder my body as an instrument of serving God? The New Testament teaches us that the body is the temple, the dwelling place of the Holy Spirit, and should be cared for accordingly. (1 Cor. 6:19-20)
- Exaltation - Will this choice glorify or exalt the Lord and His glory? (1 Cor. 10:31)
- Constraint – Is this choice beneficial for building the kingdom of God or is it simply an act of selfishness? (2 Cor. 5:14-15)

Choices about what is considered admissible in the residence affects a large number of people. Therefore, as well as taking the above into consideration when making entertainment choices, we have adopted general guidelines for the residence. Those guidelines are as follows.

We utilize Alberta Film Ratings: Content Descriptors - www.albertafilmratings.ca to help identify whether or not movies are permitted in residence. Music

Music is a medium that has a powerful impact and influence on our lives. It should positively contribute to discipleship of the individual and the community. The following principles apply to music that is listened to, played or stored in the residence:

- The lyrics must not violate a Christian world view. The message should not promote, explicitly or implicitly, any philosophy or action that is anti-biblical.
- The music must demonstrate respect, consideration, and deference toward others. The personal conviction of an individual should not be forced on others.
- The volume should not disturb others at any time. Your music should not be heard in other rooms or disturb a roommate. During quiet times particular sensitivity to others should be exercised by using headphones.

DISCIPLINARY PROCEDURES

The responsibilities articulated in the Community Covenant are foundational to all the relationships and responsibilities within the residence. By applying to live in the residence you are agreeing to live according to this Community Covenant as well as by the responsibilities articulated in this Residence Handbook.

You can view the Community Covenant using the following link:

This may include measures such as appropriate restrictions, accountability, boundaries, counsel, monetary fines or in extreme situations eviction from the residence.
